

Bridge 2025

We've all had our reasons for playing this game.

Some of us did it for fun.

Some for glory and fame.

We spent a small fortune on Books.

Which go on the shelf to gather some dust.

To attend Susie's lessons was an absolute must.

Some of you played Bridge to nourish the brain

Unfortunately, that notion is completely insane.

Then there's folk that played Bridge to improve their memory

and yet

They still get Alzheimer's and damn I forget

In years gone by I've heard it tell.

That some ladies came looking for a husband as well.

And there's been success in this field back in the day

Remember a chap called Eddy.

That's all I'm going to say.

Some of you come just to have a good chat.

While others play Bridge so they can show off their hats.

Some people play Bridge to get away from their mate.

at least that's the way it seems.

There are not too many in this club that play with their own dream team.

There is Susie and Jim they're a riot.

Jim gets lessons every time they play.

Pam and Allan are so so they each like to have their own way.

Now Julie and Maurie, they sometimes play.

It's a test of who is the best.

Marie says Julie you should have done this.

You should have done that.

Julie says O just give it a rest

But I fear for Julie's Bridge status.

I can sense the tension and friction.
From the taste of those cakes we've been getting he's already taken over the kitchen There's also Patricia and David while she's the height of diplomacy Putting up with Dave's errant bidding she's just as patient as can be.
Well, that leaves Shirley and Keith and I really have to say That the way Keith looks out for his Shirley, you'd think they're still in their courting days
So you can see most of us just leave our mates at home where they belong
Just bringing them out at Christmas and then you can't go wrong
Oh yes, I almost forgot about Larry now he really is on the make
He doesn't care to hoots about Bridge.
He just comes for the cake.
